Book Suggestions

“Christmas” by Trudi Strain Trueit

Trudi Strain Trueit gives a background and basic history of Christmas from a secular point of view. While noting that Christians celebrate the birth of Jesus Christ., the author calls it a joyful holiday. “Christmas” includes various traditions, songs and recipes.

(Available in the Children’s Room J 394.2663 TRUE)

“Christmas Traditions Around the World” by Amy Ingalls

Amy Ingalls tells the Christmas story, offers a brief background of Santa Claus and Saint Nicholas and gives a one-page synopsis of Christmas traditions in the United States, The Netherlands, Egypt, Chile, China, Denmark, Greece, Uganda, Mexico and India.

(Available in the Children’s Room J 394.2663 INGA)

“Hanukkah” by Trudi Strain Trueit

Celebrated for eight days in December (this year Hanukkah is observed beginning the evening of December 12 through the evening of December 20), Hanukkah is a Jewish celebration. Trueit gives a brief history and the traditions observed. There are chapters on how to play Dreidel and how to make your own Menorah.

(Available in the Children’s Room J 394.296.4 TRUC)

“Seven Days of Kwanzaa” by Ella Grier

The first day of Kwanzaa is December 26. Ella Grier demonstrates through poetry and illustrations (by John Ward) what takes place on each of the seven days. There are no explanations of the tradition, but there are recipes and colorful photos.

(Available in the Children’s Room J 394.2612 GRIE)
